

My student is ill with COVID-19 symptoms.
What should I do?

You should contact your student's primary care provider immediately to seek a COVID-19 test. The antigen (rapid) test is acceptable along with the PCR or TMA rest. If the test result is positive, you must notify your student's school nurse immediately. The school nurse will explain to you what your student needs to do in terms of an isolation period, and when your student may return to school.
