March 12, 2020

Dear families...

It has been another challenging day for us in the educational arena. I am very proud of our staff and students, and especially our Leadership Team, for understanding that the Covid-19 situation is dynamic, and we are doing all we can to be prepared for what comes next.

The Leadership Team met for most of the afternoon today to clarify the position of the Kittery School District on a number of issues that may emerge from the spread of Covid-19, including a possible extended school closure. Our principals will be meeting with teachers Friday morning to review results of the Leadership Team's work this afternoon and to seek their input. With that, I will compose my next communication to share with you.

In the meantime, remember that tomorrow, Friday, March 13th, is a schedule teacher workshop day. Please take some time this weekend to take a deep breath and to remind yourself and your children that we will get through this challenge as long as we stick together and support each other.

Take care.

Sincerely,

Eric F. Waddell
Superintendent of Schools
